Your level is:

B1

Course you should start: Elementary English for Business Purposes (A2)

Starter

An A1+ user can understand and use familiar business expressions and very basic phrases for the satisfaction of needs in the workplace. This user can introduce him/herself and others and can ask and answer questions about details such as general information about a company or a coworker. The interactions in this level turn out simply.

elementary

An A2 user can communicate in simple and routine job tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information in the workplace. In business scenarios, this user can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her past job experience and matters in the workplace of immediate need, even though keeping conversations going for oneself might be difficult.

Intermediate

A B1 user can exchange information and ideas in discussions in the workplace by describing experiences and events, and briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions and plans. In business scenarios, this user can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst engaging in business conversations in a clearly participative manner to convey information on specific business topics as well as topics of national and international interest.

Advanced

A B2 user can interact and negotiate to take part in complicated business situations. This user can understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics to react accurately in unexpected situations arguing and explaining the advantages and disadvantages of various options. In business scenarios, exploring hypotheses and including supportive arguments allow reinforcing business skills to get success in any job activity.
